Dear [FIRST NAME]:

Over the past year, four students have come to faith in Jesus through our campus ministry at Western Oregon University! That's the kind of eternal impact we're always praying for—and we're so grateful to know people like you who care about reaching the next generation.

Whether you've been following our newsletter updates and praying for students, or if you've financially supported our ministry at some point—thank you! Every prayer and donation matters, and we're grateful for the ways you've partnered with us.

We believe God is doing something powerful on college campuses. And with your help, we're committed to being right in the middle of it—sharing the Gospel with non-believers, discipling Christian students, and raising up future leaders to impact our culture for Christ.

As we continue raising our son Jason, we're also navigating how to give our best both to ministry and to our family. That's why we're looking to raise $1,200 in monthly support by the end of the summer—so I can remain fully available to students without sacrificing our ability to provide well at home.

Would you prayerfully consider becoming a monthly financial partner? Whether that's $25, $50, or even $100/month, your support would be a vital part of what God is doing through this ministry. Every gift enables students to hear the Gospel, grow in their faith, and live as lights for Christ in a dark world.

Thank you again for your prayers, encouragement, and friendship. We'd love to have you join our team of monthly financial partners if you're interested!

Blessings,

Justin & Emily
